Then taking hold of the long end of the rope, Pavne tried to tow his prisoner through the street; but Maloney objected to being led around like a wild animal, and a tug of warenassed. It was buil and hauf for a few minutes, but the wash line held out, and the refractory prisoner, lesing his balance, went rolling in the dirt. Celting a good grip on the rope, Payne succeeded in haufing Maloney some distance hefore the latter regained his feet. Then the fight was renewed. It was buil and drive all the way to the station, where Maloney, partly ovarcome by exhaustion, was put upon a train and taken to Jannalea. The same scenes were repeated in the streets of Janualea. Maloney with all his strength.

Among the people attracted by the uproar were Col. Cogswell, a well-known resident of the place, and Village Trustee W. C. Purland. They finally went to the rollef of the men, and, after a short talk, succeeded in persuading Maloney to accompany the deputy to the lock-up without further demonstration.

Payne said afterward that Maloney promised to go along quietly if unbound, but that he was no sooner released than he darted away.

$3,000 laterest on a $60 Deposit in Sixty

Boston, Nov. 20.-The sum of $2,008, which has accrued in interest upon a $60 deposit in a local savings bank, has just been turned over to the State. A deposit book representing that amount was taken from a prisoner named William Doyle some sixty years ago by the thon City Marshal. Doyle died in 1814 without kin sofar as known. In 1887 the book was found by a descendant of the City Marshal and turned overto the Public Administrator. Advertisements for Doyle's heirs met with no response, and now the money becomes the property of the Commonwealth.

COL ROBINSON DISCOUNTS NOTES. Trying to Collect the Money from the Bimtre

Gas Company The first of a series of seven suits brought through Police Commissioner MacLean by the Western National Bank to recover an aggre-gate of $135,500 from the Elmira Gas and Illuminating Company, was on trial before Judge Truax in Part IV. of the Supreme Court yesterday. This particular suit was on a note for $10,000 made by the Treasurer of the company, C. H. Baldwin, and endorsed by President D. C. Robinson, a son of the late Gov. Rebinson, which note was discounted by the bank on Jan. 17, 1863. President Robinson got notes discounted aggregating $224,5(8), of which $84,000 has been paid. These notes were discounted between September, 1892, and Pebruary of the present year.

The Elmira Gas and Hiluminating Company went into the hands of a receiver in July, in anticipation of the seven suits of the Western National Bank. Its defence is that Mr. Robinson and not the company received the money got on the notes, and, also, that the Treasurer bad no power to issue paper in the company's got on the notes, and, also, that the Treasurer had no power to issue paper in the company's name.

Mr. Baidwin, when examined resterdar, said he had made the notes at the request of Colicobinson, and that the money obtained on them was charged to Col. Nobinson on the books of the Municipal Improvement Company, an organization which was parent to the Elmira Gas and Illuminating Company and several other concerns. The gas company, Mr. Baidwin said, did not have the proceeds of any of the notes.

G. H. Spencer, Secretary of the gas company, showed by its books that the company had not benefited by the notes, which, he said, were of the nature of accommodation paper.

Brayton Ives, President of the Western National Bank, said he didn't know that Col. Robinson was President of the Elmira Gas and Illuminating Company, when the notes were discounted. He knew he was interested in the concern, but not that he was a director. The money got on the notes was transferred to Col. Robinson's individual account in the Western National Bank. Mr. Ives inquired generally asked the standing of the Elmira disa and Illuminating Company, but didn't make specific inquiries, as Col. Robinson was introduced by a director in whom he had confidence, and also was in good financial standing.

"Then you let him have $135,500 without inquiring ne to his relations to the company." Test, that is, I never learned his exact re-inquiring as to his relations to the company?"

asked Julien T. Davies, counsel for the company.

Yes; that is, I never learned his exact relations."

Mr. Ives read a letter dated Sept. 17, 1892, in which Col. Robinson asked to have two notes for $22,500 discounted. The letter said that the Elmira Gas and Illuminating Company was rated AAA1 by Dun. The proceeds of the notes were to be used to pay for a power house and other improvements of a nature to add to the company's income. The letter, Mr. Ives said, followed a conversation to the same effect.

Thomas J. Brennan, assistant cashier of the Western National Bank, acknowledged that the bank book showed that on the very days notes were discounted for Col. Robinson the exact sums obtained by the notes were entered in Col. Robinson's individual account, with the letter D attached to them. He suppessed that D stood for discount, and that the amounts entered in the private account were obtained from the notes. Col. Robinson's account was opened on Sept. 17, 1892, and the first note was discounted on Sept. 20.

Several directors testilled that Col. Robinson managed the affairs of the Elmira Gas and Illuminating Company without their assistance.

Col. Robinson is to be examined before Col. Rebinson is to be examined before George M. Van Hoesen as referee.

The demands of Wall street for a continuous supply of news during business hours seem to be in a fair way of being supplied, for the list of financial news agencies was increased yes-terday by the appearance in the field of the New York News Bureau, a company of which Mr. James Bascovar has accepted the Presidency, and will also be the general manager. denoy, and will also be the general manager. Having had an experience of over twenty years in the business of collecting and distributing news is the street as an amployee, he has concluded to undertake the work practically on his own account. By doing so the competition, already sharp, is obviously increased. Consequently a better, if not cheaper service all round may reasonably be expected. The new concern began operations yesterday, introducing a number of distinctive features, which, together with the personality of the management, are counted upon to contribute to the success of the enterprise.

adga Freedman Boeldes that It Was Roally Actor Bougins on Whom Papers Were Served at Mr. Booth's Funeral. Annie T. Gibert has won the suit for separation from Audinet Gibert, for which she came from Paris. As Mr. Gibert did not seek to prove the accusations in his answer that his wife had been intimate with Manuel de Santa Maria, a Colombian, who has lived in France about the same time as Mrs. Gibert, seven or eight years, Santa Maria's evidence and that of M. Mason Carns, both of whom had also come from Paris, was not taken, Judge

Bischoff says in deciding the case: The causes which induced the parties to this action to enter into an oral agreement in September, 1885, to live apart from each other, I regard as wholly immaterial. The enforcement of such a contract is contrary to public policy, and the agreement was therefore rev ccable at the pleasure of either party. The several statutes of this State which enable a married woman to contract, the same as a convenie, affect only her separate estate, and do not otherwise destroy the legal unity of husband and wife. Their personal status and their respective obligations which arise from the con-jugal relation remain unchanged, and the husband is bound to harbor, protect, and support his wife until, upon just complaint and for one of the causes pre-scribed by law, he is freed from that obligation by

An agreement made with an intervening party for the wife, providing for her support pending separ-tion, and not made to induce the separation of husband and wife is not objectionable on the ground of public policy, and has been repeatedly declared to be operative and valid. There was a case of fibbing or mistake somewhere, as one of the counsel said, in the action of Byron Douglas, the actor, for a separation from Marie R. E. Douglas, in which each accuses the other of cruelty. An order to show cause why he should not be numished for contempt of court in falling to pay his wife $375 arrears of alimony and a counsel fee appear to have been served on some one at the funeral of Edwin Booth on June 9 inst. Judge Freedman, in denying a motion to set the proceeding aside on the ground of non-service, decided yesterday that the actor had been served with the order at the funeral.

Douglas made affidavit that he was not at the funeral, but was with his mother at Asbury Park at the time. He said he was subsequently informed that Actor Francis Carlyle, who had been at the funeral, had been served with the papers. Mr. Carlyle testified that he was at the funeral with Henry Miller and Henry Dixoy, and that some one had thrust the papers into his hand. Henry Miller are state on that occasion he saw some one present papers in Carlyle, calling him Mr. Douglas. Mr. Miller says there is a strong resemblance between Carlyle and Douglas. Mrs. Jennie M. Douglas, the mother of the plaintiff, makes affidayit that her son was at Asbury Park for several days before and after June 9 last.

Emil Reini made affidavit that he had served Douglas within a few feet of the Church of the Transfiguration on June 9 at the funeral. He says that Douglas denied his identity, but that he knew it was Douglas, as he had served him twice before in the same suit. The Judge says:

Genzel says that his wife has bleached her hair and is known in Harlem, where she lives at 319 West 128th street, as "Blond Minnie." GARDNER A FREE MAN AGAIN,

Dr. Parkhuret's Rr. Agent Liberated Under Charles W. Gardner, ex-agent of the Park-hurst society, was released yesterday afternoon from the Tombs prison, where he had been confined since Feb. 8. He was convicted in the Court of General Sessions of attempting to extort blackmall from the keeper of a disorderly house, but the jury's verdict was reversed by a decision of the Supreme Court handed down on Friday.

Strenuous efforts were man by Lawrers Moss and Brague to have Gardner released on Saturday, but they failed, as ten days' notice to the District Attorney was necessary before a Judge of the Supreme Court could be asked to sign an order directing the prisoner's release. This notice was given on Saturday, and early yesterday morning Lawyers Moss and Brague were at the District Attorney's office with an order which they had prepared for the Judge's signature, and which they wanted District Attorney Nicoll to approve. The order recited that the decision of the Supreme Court had been reached on a review Court had been reached on a review of both the law and facts. If this order was signed by Judge O'Brien, who was in waiting at the rooms of the Bar Association in Twenty-ninth street, the District Attorney would be debarred from taking the case to the Court of Appeals. The District Attorney objected, and wanted the order drawn so as to state that only the law, as laid down by Recorder Smyth in the trial of Gardner, had been found faulty.

Liardner's lawyers refused to make this alteration, and asked Judge O'Brien to sign the order as originally drawn up. Assistant District Attorney Gordon Battle asked the Judge to make the change desired by the District Attorney. This was done, and now Gardner's case will probably go to the Court of Appeals.

public policy, and has been repeatedly declared to be operative and valid. In the presentenses, however, an agreement to pay an annual sum for his wife's support was made in consideration of plaintiff's consent to live separate and scart from her husband, and sance the agreement fails.

In December, 1891, pending a cessation of legal hostilities between the parties, the plaintiff offered unoraditionally to return to the defendant's hed and board. Her offer was refused by him, and both before and since that time and to the time of the commencement of this section, he presistently refused to constitute both abandonment and refusation support.

HOBBS AND THE MISSIONARY.

Mrs. Hobbs Thinks a Stranger Wanted to Abduct Her for Their Benefit. This is a summary of the trouble Carrie Hobbs, a pretty German woman 22 years old, had with Charles Hobbs up to last Sunday night: He married her. She had him arrested for bigamy. The Grand Jury let him go because the first wife did not appear. He sent threatening letters to her. He lived with her again. He deserted her.

On Sunday night, Mrs. Hobbs thinks, he broke out in a new form. A stranger called at her home at 112 Berry street, Williamsburgh, and wanted her to accompany him to "Rock away, near Philadelphia," to console Hobbs who, the stranger said, had had his right leg eut off in an accident on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Thinks the Drowned Woman Was Her Stater A woman called at the Morgue vesterday to examine the effects of the young woman whose body was found in the East River, at the foot of Fourteenth street, on Oct. 26. The woman's clothes had been buried with her, but a pocketbook, a key, and a kid glove were shown to the visitor. She said she recognized the articles as having belonged to her sister, Hannah Blumgren, 22 years old, who had disappeared about a month ago. The woman said that her sister same to this city from Sweden on June 24, 1802, and had been employed as a servant. She recognized the key as a satchel key owned by Miss Blumgren and produced a duplicate. She refused to tell where the dead woman had lived, and said she would go to Hart's Island to-day and have the body exhumed to settle the matter beyond question.

The body of the young woman found in the Fast River at the foot of Jefferson street, on Thursday, will be buried in the Fotter's Field to-day. The letters on the waisthand of the underskirt cannot be distinguished, and there is no other clue to the woman's identification. book, a key, and a kid glove were shown to the

Mr. Ryan Locked Up for Reckless Driving. Dr. John C. Beach of 287 West Seventieth street was knocked down and run over in front of Durland's riding academy in West Sixtieth street by a light carriage driven by James P. Ryan of Morris avenue and Ash street. Dr. Beach, who is an elderly man, was not very surfously injured, and was taken to his home. Mr. Ryan, who says he is a retired business man, was arrested. He seemed to be very much excited when arraigned in the Yorkville Police Court. As the injured man was unable to appear against him the prisoner was held in $5.000 bail, which see said he could furnish in cash, but as he omitted to do so he was locked up.

Nearing a Decision in the Scaman Will Case, The complex evidence of kinship to Ann Drake Seaman, whose will 147 alleged rela-tives are trying to upset, was declared all in before Justice Patterson in Part III. of the Supreme Court yesterday. Joseph H. Cheate, as counsel for the 153 defendants, thereupon moved to dismiss the case. His contention was that the 360 and more persons who have figured in the case have not been lined up so that one can say what part of the estate each one would get if the will were set aside. Justice Patterson instructed Mr. G. W. Wilson, counsel for the plaintiffs, to give him a list in the morning of all the kin he thought he had brought fully into the evidence, a sort of a tree with all the branches. The Judge said he would then take the motion to dismiss under consideration, and it might take several days for him to decide it. preme Court yesterday. Joseph H. Cheate, as

HUMPHREYS'

ATHLETIC MAGNATES MEET. Changes in the Rules and a General Cut in Betrenchment was the order of the day when the A. A. U. magnates put their heads together at the Astor House yesterday. The knife was freely used by the governors, and all such luxurious extras as record medals, individual excellence medals, and supplementary championships were lopped off in wholesale fashion. Evan the travelling expenses of the governors mains open, but the indications are that railroad coupons and Astor House incidentals will no longer be the occasion of worry to Treasurer W. B. Curtis.

Legislation commenced with a meeting of the old Board at 1 P. M. The members present were: G. W. Beals and W. Stimpson, New England Association; J. E. Sullivan and W. B. Curtis, Metropolitan Association : Julius Harder, North American Gymnastic Union: Howard Perry and H. McMillan, Atlantic Association: F. K. Stearns, Central Association.

Minutes were read and approved, and the financial report of the last Boxing and Wresling Committee was ordered spread on the minutes. The Treasurer's report showed a balance to the credit of the union amounting to $280.52. The reports of the various committees were referred to the new Board and the meeting adjourned. The general meeting promptly convened with the following in attendance: W. B. Curtis and J. E. Sullivan. Metropolitan Association: H. McMillan and Howard Perry, Atlantic Association: W. Stimp-son and G. W. Beals, New England Association; F. K. Stearns, Central Association; A. G. Mills, Pacific Association: Julius Harder, John Steil, and H. Hartfield, North American Gymnastic Union. The election for places on the new Board was then got through harmonious-new Board was then got through harmoniously with the following result:

George C. Edwards and W. Greer Harrison,
Pacific Association; Howard Perry and H. Mc
Millan, Atlantic Association; F. K. Stearnsand
R. J. Delano, Central Association; George W.
Beals and W. Stimpson, New England Association; J. E. Sullivan and W. H. Curtis, Metropolitan Association; Julius Harder, North
American Gymnastic Union; C. H. Luscomb, League of American Wheelmen.
It was readyed to ameni clause E. section
12. article IV. of the constitution of the A. A.
U. to read as follows:

That is the event of four-fiths of the clus, eccupy
ing not less than two States in isrritory, making format application to be admitted as a separate association to active membership in this union, this union shall be empowered, in the discretion, to admit the same as an active member and to adiot such attacs

shail be empowered, in its discretion to admit the same as an active member and to salot such States thereto as its territory.

This modification made a loophole for the admission of the newly formed Southern Association. It was unanimously elected to membership, with territory embracing the States of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, and Kentucky. The new Board then went into session and The new Board then went into session and wrestled with knotty problems in almost end-less variety for several hours. Mr. A. G. Mills, representing the Pacific Association, was present by invitation.

The officers elected were: President, Howard Perry: Vice-Presidents, George W. Beals and F. K. Stearns: Treasurer, W. B. Curtis: Secretary, James E. Sullivan. The Board lost little time in selecting the following veteran committees:

T. P. Conneff's world's record of one mile in a minutes 17 4-5 seconds, made at Brooklyn on Aug. 2d, was accepted. A world's record was also allowed to W. H. Henry, who won the high-hurdle championahip at San Francisco instyear in 15% seconds. A conditional record was granted to Dana H. Thompson for his half-mile swim in a tank at San Francisco. His time was 12 minutes 47 seconds.

The medal for which C. W. Stage of Cleveland and F. C. Puffer of New York ited at Chicago, will be cut in two, and half awarded to each athlete.

The treasurer's article on finances proved a poser for the legislators. They ultimately decided to repeal General Rule 15 and sholish prizes for individual sxeelience.

The offer of the New Jerser A. C. to give the individual all around championship free of expense to the Union was jumped at. No further benefactors being in evidence the supplementary championship, the ewimming championships, and the lacroste championships were cut off, as the governors could not see their way elear to footing the lail. Special record medals were also abolished, and in future the exceptional performance will be commemorated by an engraving on the ordinary championship trophy.

The question of travelling expenses inspired about 10 to his grown as the financial reformers were firm and the constitution will, prohably, have to be americal of the union responsible. The delicate question will be reformed to a mail vote.

The economic wave will wash away about $1000 of the ensuing rear's expenses, leaving about $1000 of the ensuing rear's expenses. The laiter source will produce to percent of the required amount. The visit question of increasing the revenue was turned over to a committee consisting of F. R. Stearns, W. H. Curtis, H. Perry, and G. W.
